

FEELING LOVING

TE AMO, BEBE, LITTLE ONE

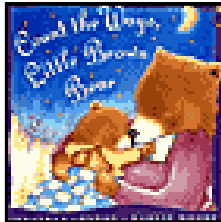

By Lisa Wheeler E WHEE

A loving depiction of a child's first year of life, incorporating a scattering of Spanish language and Mexican influence.

COUNT THE WAYS, LITTLE BROWN BEAR

By Jonathan London E LONDO

From supertime all the way till bedtime, Little Brown Bear wants to know how much his mother loves him. She loves him more than he loves to gobble one sweet berry pie, more than he loves to read six books, even more than he loves getting nine good-night kisses! But that's not enough for a little bear who isn't quite ready to go to bed!

AND TO THINK THAT WE THOUGHT WE COULD NEVER BE FRIENDS

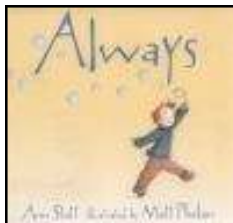

By Mary Ann Hoberman E HOBER

A brother and sister learn that friendship is better than fighting!

ALWAYS

By Ann Stott E STOTT

Young readers are sure to be comforted by this universal tale, in which a young boy is assured that his mother loves him--no matter what he does.

BEING JEALOUS

THE TROUBLE WITH BABY

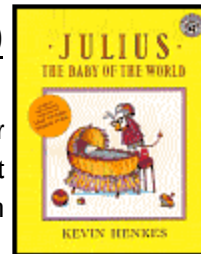

By Marisabina Russo E RUSSO

Sam and his big sister Hannah have fun playing together, until Hannah gets a new doll for her birthday and begins paying so much attention to the doll that Sam gets jealous.

JULIUS THE BABY OF THE WORLD

By Kevin Henkes E HENKE

Lily is convinced that the arrival of her new baby brother is the worst thing that has happened in their house, until Cousin Garland comes to visit.

EVIE & MARGIE

By Bernard Waber E WABER

Evie and Margie are best friends. When auditions are held for the school play, they both decide to try out for the lead role of Cinderella. But starring in the school play is one thing they can't do together, and when Margie is given the role, Evie is left to cope with her frustration and jealousy alone.

WHEN I FEEL JEALOUS

By Cornelia Spelman E SPELM

A young bear describes situations that make her feel jealous, how it feels to be jealous, and what she can do to make things better.
